A CATHOLIC REBEL.

Ducey Says Corrigan Interferes with His Liberty.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—It is announced by the friends of Father Thomas J. Ducey, pastor of St. Leo's, that Father Ducey has appealed to Mgr. Satoll for liberty to attend the session of the Lexow Committee, which Archbishop Corrigan has forbidden him to attend. Father Ducey has confirmed the story of being forbidden by the archbishop and the situation has become grave, in view of the probability that Father Ducey will rebel against the archbishop's order. It is possible that both the archbishop and Father Ducey will be summoned before the Lexow Committee.

CHRISTIANS MASSACRED.

LYONS (France) Nov. 21.—A dispatch from the bishop of Hoo Pe at the north end of Lake Tung-Thing, Central China, has been received by the Catholic mission here. It announces that violent persecutions of Christians have broken out in the department of Se-Chou. Numbers of Christians are reported killed.

IMPERIAL ATTACKS.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Shanghai reports that the Chinese are within two miles of Port Arthur. The American cruiser Baltimore has gone to Fung-Chow fearing that an attack may be made upon her.

YAMAGATA'S FORK.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The Japanese Legation here has received the following cable: "A portion of the army under Marshal Yamagata attacked Hulu-Yen where the enemy's force was reported to be 20,000, at 6 A.M., November 18, and succeeded in taking the place by 9 A.M. The enemy fled northwest. Five cannon were captured."

PENNOYER'S CHUCKLE.

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 21.—Gov. Pennoyer, speaking in reference to Japan's reply to the offer of mediation by this government today said: "I see that the Japanese government has followed my example in reminding President Cleveland to the conference between the Secretary and the Minister, at which Secretary Corrigan was present, the entire purpose of this conference was made clear. That Secretary Gresham had sent the message to Japan suggesting the American mediation. It was made clear that President Cleveland had no desire to mediate the trouble, but, on the contrary, felt that the exercise of the good offices of the United States might entail a serious burden and responsibility and possibly excite feeling by one party or the other. Under these circumstances no action would be taken if Japan thought it would create an awkward situation. Particular stress was laid on the fact that Japan would be entirely free to act as she saw fit; that there was no pressure to have her accept American mediation and that the entire project was due to the belief that this country was in a position to render a service to both belligerents."

The enemy fled northwest. Five cannon were captured."

IMPENDING ATTACKS.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Hiroshima says that Admiral Ito reports that he cruised off Wei-Hai-Hai for two days daring the Chinese to come out, but the Chinese refused the challenge.

YAMAGATA'S FORK.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Shanghai reports that the Chinese are within two miles of Port Arthur. The American cruiser Baltimore has gone to Fung-Chow fearing that an attack may be made upon her.

VETERANS' RIGHTS.

Commander Lawler Visits Washington in Their Behalf.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Commander-in-Chief Lawler of the G. A. R. and his adjutant-general, C. G. Jones, arrived today to present to the President the resolution adopted by the national encampment at Pittsburgh, protesting against the discharge of veterans of the late war from government positions. President Cleveland did not come in from his country place, today, so that it is doubtful if the G. A. R. delegates were able to see him.

Gen. Lawler says he does not intend to make any speech, but will be prepared to answer any questions if the President desires information. He is fortified with data upon the discharge of veterans from the departments, collected by the local posts of the G. A. R. Lawler and Jones called at the White House at 2:30 and were received by Privy Secretary Thurber. Lawler presented to Secretary Thurber the resolutions of the last encampment of the G. A. R. accompanied by a statement of cases of old soldiers who had been reduced and those who, it is charged, have been discriminated against in other ways. Gen. Lawler declined to make the statement public, but said it was conservative presentation of the case based upon facts and couched in moderate and respectful terms. The organization had no political ends to serve and no desire to do injustice to the administration, he said, but felt the facts bearing upon the treatment of old soldiers in the government service should be known to President Cleveland so any action he might see fit to take should be taken with full knowledge of the matter. It is understood the reinstatement of some of the veterans who have been discharged is

This city. The title of the complaint filed is the Fidelity Mutual Life Association against H. H. Howard, alias H. M. Holmes, alias Norman Mudgett, and Georgiana Howard.

The plaintiff alleges that he is engaged in the business of life insurance and that he issued a policy on the life of one B. F. Pitzel for $10,000, and that by a mistake on the part of the plaintiff and deception and fraudulent representation on the part of the defendant, the said Howard received the sum of $10,000; that afterward the plaintiff discovered that B. F. Pitzel was still alive; that proofs of the claims were spurious and fraudulent and made for the express purpose of cheating the plaintiff out of insurance money; that the defendant fled the country, turning over and paying to his co-defendant, Georgiana Howard, a large portion of the $10,000 which the defendant deposited in the bank in this city. An affidavit for a writ of attachment is also filed.

PITZEL KNOWN AT ST. JOE.
ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Nov. 21.—B. F. Pitzel, who is the central figure in the Philadelphia insurance swindle, for which offense H. H. Holmes is under arrest, is a former resident of this city, and left here about three years ago under a cloud.

GOFF TALKS.

A LEADER OF THE LEXOW COMMITTEE INTERVIEWED.

He Tells of the Exposure of Police Corruption in New York City and Promises More Disclosure.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—John W. Goff, the prosecuting attorney for the Lexow Investigating Committee who is stopping in Washington for a few days, has given the Evening Star an interesting interview on the work of the committee.

"We know positively," said he, "that the police department of New York was systematically blackmailing all classes of citizens. I speak within the bounds of my knowledge when I say that there was not a business-man in New York City who has not felt the powers of police blackmail. There were, perhaps, a very few instances where honorable men had refused to give their dithes of illegal tax to the police, but almost without exception these men were forced out of business.

"One peculiar feature of the blackmail was that it spared no one class, however obscure its calling. You may be surprised when I say that New York, under the rule of the police department when controlled by Tammany Hall, was far worse as regards the individual community of citizens than St. Petersburg under its most violent police regime. As an illustration of the tremendous power wielded by this organization I will refer to the difficulty we had in obtaining witnesses to go upon the stand and swear to facts they had brought to us in private. At first this applied to all classes, both reputable and disreputable. When appealed to they would claim that if they should testify the police would bring them out of the city. When asked if they could not go elsewhere and establish themselves in business, they would reply the persecution of the police of New York would follow them to every city in the country and we gradually revealed the astounding fact that the police of New York had dominated every city, but every large community in the country. The lower classes of citizens were made to believe blackmail was lawful and regular. They came to consider the captain of their precinct as the source of all municipal authority. In effect he was able to sheet lightning from his fingers if I used this power now exercised. I do most emphatically, I think that the public conscience having once been aroused, the machinery of this nauseous system exposed, will be a perpetual bar against the development of such an organization in the future. I consider the great danger of our form of government lies in the possibility of municipal anarchy. The tendency is too strongly toward the growth of the urban community at the expense of the rural. This feeds the machine, that if not watched and checked, will grow to such extreme proportions that which we have just destroyed in New York, Constitutional, I believe, as the investigation has proved, is the danger of the day. I cannot speak too highly of the composition of the committee which employed me as its counsel. Though appointed by a Republican Senator and consisting of a majority of the members of that body, they have acted throughout the investigation like non-partisans, and they have upheld the counsel in every move that has promised to demonstrate the problem that confronts us."

On another point, however, the question as to where the blackmail originated, or in what proportion it was distributed, so that is a personal matter which would force me to mention names. There are still many points to investigate, a great deal of rounding up, finishing up, as it were. We will try to finish the work by the first of January."

RUSSIA AND ENGLAND.

The St. James Gazette Anticipates an Approachment.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The St. James Gazette this afternoon gives prominence to an article in which it says it is rumored that the war approach has taken place between Russia and England; that it is possible the Straits of Dardanelles which have been closed to Russian and other men-of-war since the signing of the Treaty of 1856, will shortly be opened to men-of-war of all nations.

The Gazette points out the opening of the Dardanelles to foreign ships would have a disastrous effect upon England; that it would necessitate a great increase in the British Mediterranean fleet. It would seem there is some basis for the report that the Dardanelles are to be open to the passing of Russian and other men of war and a dispatch from Odessa to the London Times, last night, says a number of troops from the military district of Odessa have been ordered to proceed to Vladivostok and from the Russian warport to the northeast of Korea.

It was asserted these reinforcements are due to the east entirely on account of the war between China and Japan. It should be added, however, that this is not the first time the vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet have passed through the Dardanelles on their way to Vladivostok.

TOOK THE OATH.

The Finlanders Satisfied by a New Proclamation.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 21.—A fresh proclamation issued by the Czar has satisfied the Finlanders, who have now sworn allegiance to His Majesty. The Czar to day graciously received a Polish deputation. He assured them that he knew no distinction between the different religious professions. He declared that he loved all his subjects equally.

Murdered by Tramps.

GALESBURG, Mich., Nov. 21.—William Wickwire and sister, who live five miles south of here, were murdered by tramps this evening. The men called Wickwire to the door and deliberately shot him. The police are searching the country for the murderer. Wickwire was probably the object

(COAST RECORD.) A SMOKING MOUNTAIN

Rainier Loses its Head and Looks Strange.

It Breaks Forth with a Mild Eruption and Gets a Big Crack in Its Side.

The Miners' Convention—Fruit-growers at 'Frisco—Practical Jokers Fired with Shot—Gen. Zeta Quoted.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—Great excitement has been caused throughout the Puget Sound country by what is looked upon by many as an eruption of Mt. Tacoma, or Rainier, 14,444 feet high and one of the loftiest peaks in the United States. The mountain has certainly been strangely transformed. The crest of the great monarch of the Cascades has changed, the cone having fallen in and steam can be seen rising from the crater.

There is no eruption, it is believed by those most competent to judge, but great masses of rock seem to have fallen. The snow-capped cone has disappeared, and a sharp-pointed peak has risen in its place to the east of the crater. The changed appearance of the mountain is evident from the streets of Seattle, ninety miles distant, and thousands of people have watched the great fall all the afternoon.

But few people have ever ascended the mountain, and at this season of the year the ascension is an absolute impossibility, so there is no way of making a thorough investigation of the phenomenon.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 21.—Mt. Rainier is in a state of mild eruption, the appearance of the summit is entirely changed, and a new peak has appeared in its center. Soon after sunrise this morning, the sky and air being remarkably clear, clouds of black smoke were seen curling out from the southwestern part of the peak, where the crater is located, coming at intervals of about fifteen seconds. The dome-like top had disappeared and had been replaced by a flat top with a large crevass extending down the side, while in the center of the mountain a new peak had risen on the northern side. The snow was all gone from the summit as though melted off, or as if some falling mass of rock had started an avalanche from the summit. The jagged points of rock, stripped of their white covering, could be plainly discerned. Steam was also seen issuing from the crevasses, which rose 100 feet above the summit.

Mt. Rainier is a cone-shaped peak and stands slightly to the west of the main Cascade range, sixty-five miles southeast of Seattle. It rises fully 10,000 feet above the range. It has three craters, of which the principal and most perfect is the one in the southern part of the peak, where the crater is located. The snow was all gone from the summit as though melted off, or as if some falling mass of rock had started an avalanche from the summit. The jagged points of rock, stripped of their white covering, could be plainly discerned. Steam was also seen issuing from the crevasses, which rose 100 feet above the summit.

"In my capacity as freight agent," continued Smurz, "there is not a single day that passes that I am not interviewed by some representative of some of these industries urging upon us the consideration of the depressed state of industry, stimulating marketing and distribution of our fruit. This is being a much factor much more important than the question of freight."

The speaker denied that the Southern Pacific had ever charged $10 a ton on wheat from San Luis Obispo to San Francisco, as it is believed that the rates on the railroads as to whether the Southern Pacific did not carry freight for the Santa Fe road at 10¢ per cent per ton per mile, Smurz said that the Southern Pacific had no pro rate with other roads. At 12:20 p.m. a recess was taken until 1:30 o'clock.

At this afternoon's session W. C. Cross, president of the management of the Southern Pacific Company, addressed the assembly on the expenses of maintaining railroads, he said, are chiefly concerned with the rate charged for freight and the various expenses of running railroads and they do not take care of their family. See also.

The Southern Pacific Company exercises no control over the railroads east of Oregon other than by moral suasion and while those roads do not understand the importance of this industry they have heretofore granted whatever reasonable concession may be asked of them. See also.

On the roads had gone into bankruptcy. "Speaking for the Southern Pacific Company," continued Curtis, "that company cannot do business at rates low enough to make much more than a drop in the bucket relief in the situation as outlined before this convention, and continue to maintain itself."

On through traffic the Southern Pacific had to make rates with the other roads on a mileage basis. Fuel is much dearer in California than it is in the East. Then there is the expense of maintaining snow-sheds. In getting over the mountain ranges that inclose California, an average of 7,500 feet must be surmounted in five miles and output of energy sufficient to haul a train 400 miles.

In reply to a question by Weinstein, Curtis said that the railroad company had paid in taxes for a few years past $5,000,000, which is more than the fruit-growers pay in taxes. The rates of the Southern Pacific Company are now less than half of what they were twenty years ago, while the volume of tonnage per mile of road has increased but 10 per cent during that time.

The story of Mt. Tacoma's changed appearance is regarded here as having little foundation, though Tacoma looks at the mountains from a different point of view than Seattle, but the side towards the city, which is covered with the largest glacier in the world, seems to have been covered with snow to a greater depth than usual. Most always in the summer on a clear day, some steam can be seen arising from the mountain's crater, and it is thought here that this phenomenon has given birth to the stories. Persons have slept in the crater for a few hours at a time, but cannot remain too long on account of the dense fumes of sulphuric gases which are constantly rising and which have led some travelers to suspect that the interior of the mountain was in close proximity to the place known in literature as "Hades."

THE FRUIT-GROWERS.

The Question of Railroad Rates Discussed—Mr. Smurz Explains.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—At the opening of the morning session of the Fruit Growers' convention, Edward Berwick read a paper on the question of transportation. He began by saying that competition was a failure. Thirty-four years ago, Mr. Rossell of Belgium advised that the government should be allowed to manage the railroads. The politicians foiled this plan.

Mr. Rossell, who is the author of the resolution presented to the Committee on Resolutions, said that he had been informed that fresh fruit had been shipped from Portland to Minneapolis at a much less rate than that charged by the railroad from California points. Mr. Kellogg said the rate on fresh fruits from Portland to Minneapolis was $150 per car load.

Edward B. of San Jose said that he had been informed that fresh fruit had been shipped from Portland to Minneapolis at a much less rate than that charged by the railroad from California points. Mr. Kellogg said the rate on fresh fruits from Portland to Minneapolis was $150 per car load.

Prof. T. D. Fowler, in an impassioned speech, complained that the railroad required from two to four days to bring a carload of fresh fruit from Fresno to Sac-rramento. He said: "It is a material injury to fruit and we cannot expect to compete in the conditions, to put our fruit in Eastern markets in good condition." We have additional excessive rates of transportation. fruit. This year in Fresno, our mules are doing the work and successfully competing with the railroad. The railroad rates on lumber from Butler Station, five miles from Fresno, is $1 per car, and the rate on grain flour is 5¢ per car.

"I speak to Division Superintendent Prasse to complain about it and was informed that my request for a reduction of the rate of fresh fruit could not be allowed. I wrote to Agent Smurz at general headquarters, and Smurz replied that it could not be done, as it would interfere with the rate on green fruit elsewhere.

Since that time 300 tons of fruit have been handled from that station to Fresno by mule team and not one pound by rail. (Applause.) The railroad company should be forced to bear its proper share of the responsibility of the present apparatus, and highly recommended its use under favorable circumstances.

Relative to the resolution passed respecting the opening of navigation to Redding, Judge Bush of Shasta county said that the rate of $1 per car, he believed, was not the best, but it was the only one that could be obtained.

"It is supposed that the various county committees appoint three members of a committee to sit upon the subject of navigation to Redding. It is an entirely practical idea, he contended, to open navigation to that point. President Neff emphatically endorsed the remarks of Judge Bush on this point.

A motion passed that the various county committees appoint three members of a committee to sit upon the subject of navigation to Redding. It is an entirely practical idea, he contended, to open navigation to that point. President Neff emphatically endorsed the remarks of Judge Bush on this point.

"It is supposed that Dowdile was present during some of these robberies," said Inspector Waterbury, "and that he will divulge some valuable facts concerning the robbery trials now pending in the Arizona courts. The court is very busy at present with Federal robbery cases. We have on hand just now six stage and three train robbers, most of them quite recent occurrence. If Dowdile testifies freely, I think he will do much toward convincing several of the defendants now in custody."

The chair announced the appointment of an Executive Committee to serve during the ensuing year as follows: At large, Charles W. Cook, of the Third Infantry; Thomas R. Church, A. C. Morrison, A. L. Scott, S. B. Christie, R. McMurtry, Edward Coleman, E. C. Loftus, A. H. Ricketts, J. J. Crawford, W. W. Montague, T. L. Ford, and S. K. Thornton, Alameda; F. Chappellet, W. R. Thomas, Amador, J. F. Parks, E. C. Vining, Calaveras, S. C. Jones, J. C. Lane; Dr. Edward E. W. Chapman, James Richards, Nevada, J. S. Tregido, J. S. McBride; Placer, J. M. Fulmer, Harold T. Power; Yumas, W. W. Kellogg, George Standard; Shasta, G. H. Hart, J. F. Lyons; Fresno, F. D. Cole; Tuolumne, John H. Daniels, J. W. N. Lovell, S. W. Treadwell; Yuba, James O'Brien, Joseph Durfee.

Col. Majors was introduced as the originator of the pony express of 1860, and made a brief speech, relating highly interesting experiences of the conduct of the pony express. After the disposal of the concluding business the convention adjourned sine die.

The session of the convention was brought to a close by President Neff in a brief speech, in which he said: Gentlemen, permit me to congratulate you on the completion of your labors in this convention. I have been greatly interested in the proceedings of this association of the depressed state of industry, stimulating marketing and distribution of our fruit.

"In my capacity as freight agent," continued Smurz, "there is not a single day that passes that I am not interviewed by some representative of some of these industries urging upon us the consideration of the depressed state of industry, stimulating marketing and distribution of our fruit.

"No one will be injured if the ideas are formulated by this association. The citizens of San Francisco have been more kind to us. While the miner in the mountain has been tied up by injunction for years, poverty has overtaken him, and it was as much as he was able to do to take care of his family. See also.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Antonio Ezeta has arrived from Mexico. He says that the sole object of his visit to this city is to meet his two children, who were to leave San Salvador on November 18. He is a little doubtful whether they would be allowed to come, as he has learned that President Guiterrez intends holding them as hostages in case Gen. Ezeta should make an effort to return to San Salvador.

The general says he intends staying at least a month in this city, and then he will go to Mexico. He has been told that the miners of San Salvador that he is to meet his two children, who were to leave San Salvador on November 18. He is a little doubtful whether they would be allowed to come, as he has learned that President Guiterrez intends holding them as hostages in case Gen. Ezeta should make an effort to return to San Salvador.

"I will not return to San Salvador," he said, "while Guiterrez is in power. I am afraid his life in 1890, if I could not be saved, I have been acting agent of some of my debtors in San Salvador that they are ready to pay me, but there is little for me there. They destroyed my house and plantation, and caused me damage amounting to $500,000. Mexico could gain nothing by a war with Guatemala.

The difficulties relating to the boundary will be settled diplomatically, and a delegation is now on its way to Mexico via this city."

ATTORNEY Montooth Summons Mr. Cleveland to Testify.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Attorney Montooth is preparing some affidavits to be filed tomorrow in the case of strikers now on trial for obstructing the mails and interfering with interstate commerce. It is his purpose to make every effort possible to summon to this city as witnesses in the cases now pending President Cleveland and the managers of all the principal Eastern railroads which are in any way involved in the big strike. If the application of the defense for these distinguished witnesses be refused, the matter will be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States for final adjudication.

Montooth, in his case, said: "We hold that the president of the United States and the managers of the Eastern roads were technically guilty of obstructing the United States mails when they put forth the Presidential and managerial proclamation concerning the strike. We hold that when the strike was declared, the president of the railroads had no right to do so, and that he did not have the right to do so."

The San Francisco trial, he said, could be found to solve the problems involved and render it possible for hydraulic mining to be resumed in a manner satisfactory both to the miners and farmers. Governor-elect Budd also addressed the convention, replying to Lane of Calaveras, demanding that the California delegation in Congress take the necessary steps to organize Senators and Congressmen from mining States and territories into an association for protection of the mining interests. Congress now, he said, was fully referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

When the convention re-assembled this afternoon for its closing session, President Neff called for the names of the selections by the various county delegations for members of the Executive Committee. There were read in names of the delegates, and the order of business was proceeded with.

Alfred B. of San Jose said that he had been informed that fresh fruit had been shipped from Portland to Minneapolis at a much less rate than that charged by the railroad from California points. Mr. Kellogg said the rate on fresh fruits

CONSPIRATORS CONVICTED.

Philip Stanwood, W. H. Clune, A. T. Johnson and Isaac Ross were convicted in Judge Ross's court yesterday of conspiracy to obstruct the movement of the United States mails. The first named is, or was, president of the A.R.U. Mediation Committee, the second being secretary, and the other two being members thereof.

To those who have followed the evidence in this case with any closeness of attention, the conviction of these men is no surprise. As Judge Ross so aptly stated in his supplementary instructions to the jury, yesterday morning, there was no conflict in the evidence on the part of the government, and there was practically no evidence on the part of the defense. Under Judge Ross's instructions, the jury could scarcely have found any other verdict than that of guilty. To have done so would have been to violate their oaths and to disregard the plain and direct testimony against the accused men, which was not refuted.

Judge Ross remanded the convicted men for sentence, which will be pronounced upon them next Monday. It is not necessary to say that their deserts will be meted out to them with even-handed justice. Erskine M. Ross is a fearless, as well as an upright and able judge, in whom all right-thinking men have implicit confidence, and of whom evil doers feel in wholesome dread.

The crime of which these misguided men have been convicted—that of conspiracy to obstruct the movement of the United States mails—is a very grave one. It is an offense against the well-being of the people of the entire nation, no less than a defiance of the national authority. These men sinned against light; they committed the crime after they had been distinctly informed that it was a crime; they acted with their eyes open. They appear to have been led away by the common delusion that the American Railway Union was greater than the United States of America.

Upon the prompt and regular transmission of the mails depend the vast business interests of the people, the conveniences of social intercourse, and the free interchange of information, all of which are essential adjuncts of civilization, and of successful government. The statutes very properly provide severe penalties for this crime. When the fact becomes generally impressed upon evil-doers that they can not violate the law and escape its just penalties, there will be less lawlessness in the land, and a more wholesome respect for constituted authority, as well as for the statutes which define its duties and prescribe its limitations.

Los Angeles is fortunate in having in its midst a court which stands ready to uphold the law at all times, and to enforce its authority without fear or favor.

WILL IT BE REPEATED.

To a considerable extent the Democratic party was responsible for the railway strike of last summer. Throughout the national campaign of 1892—nay, indeed, both before and after that campaign—the organs and orators of the Democracy lost no opportunity to inflame the minds of thoughtless, thrifty and shiftless men against the industrious and well-to-do classes. Into the shallow minds of these malcontents was instilled the idea that capital was arrayed in line of battle against labor, with the determination to crush it. The demagogic spokesmen of the Democracy also took pains on every possible occasion to deceive their unreflecting dupes into the belief that the Democratic party was the fast friend and ally of the workingman, and that the Republican party was his enemy.

Thus, with the Democracy in power, organized disorder believed that it had friends and allies in high official places, who would wink at its violations of law, and would allow it to carry out its nefarious schemes without forcible intervention. Had not organized disorder entertained this belief, it would not have dared to inaugurate a rebellion.

Fortunately, those misguided men learned their mistake when the gov-long run are more powerful than his corporation, or any other corporation, or all the corporations together.

YET ANOTHER PARTY.

According to a dispatch from Minnesota, which was published yesterday, the country is threatened with another new party, or with an attempt to form a new party. It is said that leading silver men will make an emphatic demand that the Republican platform of 1892 shall contain an unequivocal declaration in favor of the unqualified free coinage of silver, and, in the event of the failure of Republicans to so declare, a new party movement shall forthwith be sprung with a two-plank platform, declaring simply for protection and free coinage.

The movement is a foolish one, and cannot succeed. It is a one-sided affair. Even among those Republicans who favor silver coinage, after we leave out the extremists, there will be found few who are ready to go so far as to leave the party in order to obtain their wishes.

What a childish sort of an affair is this! Has it got to this, that whenever a few members of the Republican party do not succeed in forcing the party, as a whole, to swallow their peculiar views, immediately and without a grimace, they must run off and form a little party of their own?

They remind one of schoolboys who won't play with their companions because they can't have everything their own way.

At any rate we may soon expect to have, besides the no-liquor party and the all-silver party, a woman's suffrage party, and single-tax party, and referendum party, and government-ownership-of-railroads party, and gold-party—and, perhaps, even a gold-cure party; for when we get so far as this, a number of these establishments would come in very handy, as a good many average citizens would certainly be driven to insanity or strong drink by this absurd and unnecessary multiplication of issues.

What can these people expect to accomplish? Nothing at all, except to obtain a little notoriety, and, perhaps, to throw the management of the country back into the hands of the Democrats who at least have sense enough to hang together for the purpose of carrying out their plans.

As to this demand for the unlimited free coinage of silver, we have frequently shown that it is as wrong and unreasonable in one direction as the attempt to base silver in favor of gold is in the other. If the unlimited coinage of silver should be granted we might expect to see producers of copper and nickel come forward with a demand for the unlimited coinage of those metals, backed by a threat that in case their demands should be refused a free-copper party and a free-nickel party would at once be formed. Then where would be the owls?

Whatever is reasonable in the demands of the silver men can certainly be obtained within the Republican party. Whatever is unreasonable should not be obtained at all. Republicans are great thinkers. The trouble is that many of them do not think straight, but still persist in having their own way, and thus play into the hands of the Democrats, who generally leave their thinking to be done by their leaders.

NOT A PARTY CONTEST.

The pending municipal campaign is not properly a party contest. No Republican should regard it as his duty to vote for Mr. Rader merely because he is the nominee of the Republican City Convention. There is no imperative call at this time for a strict adherence to party lines; there is no need for it and no practical utility in it. In the independence of the individual voter lies the surest guarantee of pure and efficient municipal government.

The problems of city government are enlisting the attention of students and economists at the present time as never before, and the trend of the most enlightened opinion is distinctly away from partisanship, with all that the term implies.

The fact is more and more impressing itself upon thoughtful minds that a non-partisan city government will best subserve the interests of a municipality. A non-partisan movement implies, and necessarily involves, a breaking away from the restraints and tyrannies of political affiliations. It implies independence of action, which means that the voter may, without relaxing his party fealty or sacrificing his party principles, cast his ballot for those candidates whom he regards as best qualified to perform the duties of the positions to which they aspire.

The question of personal fitness is supreme. All other questions are of minor consequence, and should be relegated to the background.

Political principles are seldom or never at stake in municipal campaigns. It does not matter whether a Republican or a Democrat occupies the mayor's chair, or to what political party the city treasurer or clerk may belong so long as those officials are men of progressive ideas, men of integrity. In proportion as the thoughtful voters break away from party restraints and vote independently for the ablest and best candidates, municipal politics will be purified and wise management will prevail in the government of our cities.

It follows logically, from the premises stated above, that Republicans cannot justify or properly be accused of party disloyalty for refusing to vote their party ticket in a municipal contest. They should feel perfectly justified in selecting from the several tickets in the field those candidates whom they consider the ablest and best men for the various municipal offices. It is, indeed, the duty of every thoughtful and honest citizen thus to exercise his best judgment in the selection of men to conduct the affairs of the municipality in which he resides.

If the intelligent voters of Los Angeles will adopt this view of the matter and act upon it conscientiously, there will be no doubt of the election of Henry T. Hazard, the independent candidate for Mayor. As between him and the other candidates named for that office, Mr. Hazard is conspicuously the best man for the office, whatever may be the criterion by which a conclusion is reached.

Gov. Waite and his wife, who were ardent advocates of woman suffrage prior to their recent election, have both decided, to their own satisfaction, that a mistake was made when the women of Colorado were enfranchised. The more intelligent people of Colorado—and of the rest of the country, too, for that matter—will not share the revised opinion of the "bloody brides" ex-Governor and his no doubt estimable spouse. They will rather find in the result of the election in Colorado one of the strongest arguments yet put forth in behalf of woman suffrage.

People in the blizzard-swept, cyclone-smitten region east of the Rocky Mountains are talking of a subscription in aid of the sufferers by the recent severe windstorm in Paris. Charity covers a multitude of sins; but it also begins at home, and in this instance it is more than likely to be needed in the region mentioned, before the robins nest again.

Jose Salvador Franch, the Spanish Anarchist, was executed at Barcelona yesterday. He was the fiend who threw a bomb in a Barcelona theater November 7, 1893, by which twenty persons were killed and fifty seriously injured. The only thing to be regretted is that his execution is delayed. No one has ventured a hint that he would not make a faithful officer if elected, and his staunch independence is respected, even by those who may not sympathize with him.

According to the newspaper reports of his speech before the County Clerk that he owns no property here, and brands it as false. If, however, Mr. Ryan contributed more than $120 to the city treasury last year as the total of his tax on real and personal property, that fact does not detract from his record, in order for Mr. Ryan to stand before the public as a property-owner; one essential qualification for a Mayor of this city. Mr. Ryan is a lawyer, a clear-headed man, and a good talker, but it is feared that his good qualities will be overbalanced by his claim to the supremacy of political methods and departments of the city government, the disruption of the police force and the ascendancy of the liquor men. From all of which evils the good citizens pray to be delivered.

It is the last provision with regard to the recording of the statements which is proving a puzzle to the officials. Many of the candidates, particularly the defeated ones, claim that after they have filed the statement with the County Clerk that they have done all that is required of them, and that it then becomes the duty of the clerk to record the documents free from any cost to the candidates. The law is not explicit on the subject, although the presumption is that no expense should attach to the recording of the certificates as against the candidates.

In the section following that above quoted from the law, the following words occur: "Any candidate for public office who shall refuse or neglect to file, or who makes a false statement of money received or expended as prescribed by sec. 2 of this act, and in addition to the punishment for such offense," etc. The wording of this clause seems to bear out the argument that after the certificates have passed into the hands of the County Clerk that the obligation of the candidates is ended. The particular clause does not say simply that any candidate for public office who shall refuse or neglect to file, etc., the words "and record" do not appear, as it would be supposed they would if the matter of recording was left to the candidates.

It seems almost obvious that if charge is made for recording the statements that they should be paid by the county and that the clerk should see that this provision of the law is carried out.

A number of the candidates have paid the recorder's fee, but others have objected, and it appears that the ground taken by them is supported by the intent of the law.

HENRY T. HAZARD.

Strong Reasons Why He Should be Elected.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19, 1894.—(To the Editor of The Times:) Henry T. Hazard should be elected Mayor of our city for the following reasons:

He is honest. He is capable. He has knowledge and experience in city matters. He is the Mayor's choice. All this we know, and when he was Mayor, his active vigilance in behalf of the people against the bidders, jobbers and schemers of high and low degree has borne fruit to him, so much so that every cheap political boss, every bootblack, wants to get his hand on the public treasure, which would be found against "Hazard for Mayor." In fact, he stands on general principles.

I do not intend to say that all who oppose Hazard are of this class, for there are many men so jealous of partisans that if a man gets a chance to be a Gladstone in ability and integrity, he must be set aside for the regular nominee, even though such nominee should possess no quality save a broad and comprehensive ignorance of the point at issue.

The present is no time to elect inexperienced unknowns.

It is safe to say that the coming city administration will have to meet with any that have arisen before, and foremost is the water question.

During the coming administration, the preliminary steps must be taken to determine whether the city shall purchase the plant of the City Water Company or construct its own.

I am told that the water company demands and expects to get $20,000,000 from the city for its plant, but that the real value is much less than $1,000,000.

In addition to this, it seems to some people that the water right of the city is in danger from want of attention or knowledge on the part of the servants of the law.

In the years gone by, the city gave its valuable lands to Tom, Dick and Harry. Let us draw the line on the water and save it, for it is of more value than the land. The city should own and supply the water and light, and in time own and operate all public agencies.

The present voter can easily see, without drawing upon his imagination, that an effort will be made by the water company to coax the Council to pay to it the three millions or thereabouts, and if it finds an easy Council to favor it, then the water company would be given the water right to interfere with the scheme. A weak Mayor might easily be persuaded to declare that he would not act against the wise judgment of the water company.

(Sloane City Journal:) The clamor for more money for the public works of the city is in Argentina, where the circulation per capita is already $200 to $300. Some of the Populists should move to that country and gratify their desire for more money without waiting for the turn of the tide in American affairs.

(Oakland Enquirer:) President Cleveland, according to rumor, is preparing a message which will be an argument in favor of the single gold standard.

(San Francisco Bulletin:) Those mule teams on the way from Fresno to San Francisco with dried fruits, etc., will answer some purpose in competition with the Southern Pacific until the new valley road gets in operation. That may not be in time for next year's crop so far up the valley as Fresno, but it will be in time for the fall market.

ADVISED POINT IN THE ELECTION LAW.

Who is Liable for the Payment of the Fee for Recording Expense Certificates—The Candidates Object to Paying.

The many candidates who ran for office and were successful, also those who made the race and failed to get a taste of official honors, have nearly all filed their sworn statements of election expenses. In but few instances do the amounts approximate those allowed by law as maximum limits, and in many cases the totals fall far below the privileged allowances. Some of the Populists candidates went through the campaign on less than enough to pay their expenses, and some of the candidates were undeniably thankful that their spirit of economy led them to evade excessive or even moderate assessments.

A question has arisen regarding the method of filing the certificates. The new election law says: "Every candidate for the office of the State shall file within fifteen days after the day of holding of such election, a affidavit, showing in detail all money paid, loaned, contributed or otherwise furnished to them or for his use, directly or indirectly, in aid of his election, and all expenses incurred in connection therewith, and shall state the amount of each item, the service performed, and by whom performed, and the purpose for which the money was expended, contributed or loaned."

Candidates for county offices shall file their statements in the office of the Clerk of the county wherein the election is held and within which the duties of the office for which the candidate is voted for are to be exercised. The statement and affidavit of a committee or candidate shall be recorded in the office of the County Clerk as soon as possible after being filed, become public record, and open at all times to public inspection."

It is the last provision with regard to the recording of the statements which is proving a puzzle to the officials. Many of the candidates, particularly the defeated ones, claim that after they have filed the statement with the County Clerk that they have done all that is required of them, and that it then becomes the duty of the clerk to record the documents free from any cost to the candidates.

an extra inducement for capital to come and build up the city, and those seeking homes will know that they will not be taxed or improved out of them, without at least knowing the reason why.

I favor Hazard, because he is a Republican or non-partisan, but because, in my opinion, he is the best man now before the people for the position.

It is objected to by some that he should not receive the party nomination. Mr. Hazard, with a great many other party men, are and have been disengaged with the party since the primaries at the primaries. The people are really not represented in a convention, and have no voice therein. In the Committee of One Hundred we reported a plan by which every citizen should have a voice in the selection of the candidates. But the plan was not adopted, with exception by the late Republican City Committee, and I do not consider that any one is bound to support nominations made according to the present method. GUILTY AS CHARGED

The Four A. R. U. Strikers
Finally Convicted.

A Verdict Reached by the Jury After Twenty-four Hours' Deliberation.

Supplemental Instructions Given by Judge Ross — The Men Will Come Up for Sentence
Monday.

Philip Stanwood, W. H. Clune, A. T. Johnson and Isaac Ross, respectively president, secretary and members of the mediation Committee of the local branch of the A. R. U., were convicted of having conspired together for the purpose of obstructing the passage of the United States mails on all regular trains of the Southern Pacific Company on June 28 last, by a jury in the United States District Court yesterday morning, and are now awaiting the sentence which will be meted out to them by Judge Ross on Monday next.

Immediately upon convening the District Court yesterday morning Judge Braxton M. Ross had the jury brought in, and, upon learning that no agreement had yet been reached and that there appeared no possibility of their reaching one, the court read the following additional instructions to them:

"Gentlemen of the jury: This case was submitted to you about 11:45 o'clock yesterday morning. Under ordinary circumstances, after a deliberation of nearly twenty-four hours, without an agreement between the parties, it would be difficult for you from further consideration of the case. If there was any conflict in the testimony upon any point involved in the charge, the court would discharge you from further consideration.

"But the contest on the part of the government was well conducted, and there is no dependence upon the part of the defense at all. You, during your term of service as trial jurors, are a constituent part of this court of justice, and you have taken an oath to well and truly try this case in accordance with the evidence introduced before you, and the law as given to you by the court. While, as the court has already instructed you, the defendant's are, by the law, presumed to be innocent of the charge against them, and the burden of establishing their guilt rests upon the prosecution beyond a reasonable doubt, and you are to give the defendants the benefit of any reasonable doubt you may have in respect to the truth of the facts given to you by the court. While, as the court has already instructed you, the defendant's are, by the law, presumed to be innocent of the charge against them, and the burden of establishing their guilt rests upon the prosecution beyond a reasonable doubt, and you are to give the defendants the benefit of any reasonable doubt you may have in respect to the truth of the facts given to you by the court. Your conscientious conviction is that the charge alleged in the indictment is established, your sworn and imperative duty is to render your verdict accordingly."

The jury was again locked up to deliberate upon the matter, and a few minutes later sent a request to Judge Ross for leave to examine the legal laws and regulations under which the witness Flint and Erwin testified to having read passages to the defendants on the United States Attorney's office.

The court promptly called the jury into court again, and over the objections of the defense, passed a resolution to, and also part of the motion in the cause of the United States vs. Clark (3 Phil. 476), which had also been referred to by Inspector Flint and Erwin.

The jury was locked up for the fourth time, but at 11:20 o'clock, having then been out for twenty-five hours, that body returned with a verdict of "guilty as charged in the indictment," and all four defendants, who were therupon remanded to appear for sentence on Monday next.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Weekly Meeting of the Board of Directors.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon to consider the following: Freeman, Farnam, Simson, K. S. Jeune, Sevance, Mullin, Klokke, Bredt, Cohn, McGarvin, Jones, Patterson. President Freeman occupied the chair.

The following were elected to membership in the chamber: James A. Hill & Sons, A. C. Braden, Howe Bros., E. Gilmore, E. F. Hoy, A. G. Gresham, Jr., A. B. Greenwald, Mach & Co., L. G. Parker, Boswell & Noyes, Walter S. Eches, Lewis A. Gross, A. W. Fisher, J. S. Bennett, Henry C. Buell, Henry J. Stewart, E. W. Fleming, Lynd & Cobbe, A. Hauberg & Sons, W. S. Melch, W. H. Holmes, Edw. Kobl, Lloyd, Stoevel Iron Company, Norman, Bratt, Oates F. Wright, Long, Whitney & Co.

The following letter was read, and, on motion, referred to the president for answer:

HANFORD, Nov. 18, 1894.

D. Freeman, President of Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, Cal.—Dear Sir: The people of Kings county have an organization (of which I am secretary) the object of which is to build, or encourage by every means in our power, the construction of a railroad that will relieve this section of San Joaquin of the burden it is now forced to bear.

We have heretofore worked for a line through the valley to tide water or San Francisco. Strange to say, it has just occurred to us that we have been looking in the wrong direction, as, if we succeed in getting a line to San Francisco, we will still be without competition on our Eastern business.

Now, if we could build the line to Los Angeles, it would divert the immense traffic of the valley to your city, and give us competition on all Eastern shipments. There is no good reason why the people of the valley should not prefer Los Angeles when they speak of "the city."

This idea is new to us, and probably is to you. Will you be kind enough to give it your consideration, and advise me as to your views on this subject.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) D. R. CAMERON.

THE CHOICEST YET.

Fred Eaton's Beautiful Nob Hill Tract.

The Long Work of Getting It Ready for Residences Almost Completed, and Waiting Given a Chance to Secure Their Lots.

Wherever in this paper will be found a map of the Incorporated Nob Hill tract the fine property just north of Wilshire Park for months past Fred Eaton has been getting ready for market. This will be by all odds the nicest residence district in the city, and from present indications it will not be a year till every lot in it will either be occupied or held at a fancy price by speculators, who know a good thing when they see it.

The tract is bounded on the east and west by Bonita Brae and Alvarado streets, and stretches south in a gentle and regular slope from Ocean View to Sixth street, the street that runs in the middle of the tract two blocks. There are eighty lots, all together, and not a poor one among them all. Every one of them commands an uninterrupted view of the park, the southern and western portions of the city, the lovely valley beyond and finally the mountains and the sea. The situation and outlook are ideally perfect.

The proposed work on the tract is not entirely completed, but it will be completed at once. Every street will be graded, graveled, sewered, curbed with cement curbs, provided with water, lined with cement sidewalks and beautified with handsome shade trees. The person who buys a lot will be put to no further expense for any of these things.

Alvarado is an eighty-two-foot street, Westlake avenue has a clear width of 100 feet. The street cars on Ocean View avenue and Alvarado street, the entire length of the tract, and ten minutes' ride brings one from it into the heart of the city.

The lots are all fifty feet by 150 feet in size, and in every case run to a twenty-foot alley. Right now in the beginning they will be sold for $1000 each until enough are sold to reimburse Mr. Eaton for the expense of the improvements. After that the price will be advanced to $1500. All purchases must be made through Mr. S. K. Lindley, 106 South Broadway, who has been appointed sole agent for the property.

Mr. Lindley will build for himself at once, 1 large two-story, nine-room house on one of the lots. Mr. Howgood, ex-engineer of the Southern Pacific Railroad, is preparing to build another, on two lots he has purchased at the corner of Ocean View avenue and Alvarado street; and three other gentlemen, Mr. Keller, Mr. Ward and Mr. Hine, are likewise preparing to build themselves homes on the tract.

Persons looking about for residence property will do themselves an injustice if they fail to see this, the choicest and cheapest thing at present offered in Los Angeles—situation, convenience and everything else being taken into consideration.

AND STILL ANOTHER.

An undivided one-half interest in 40 feet of Spring street, between First and Second streets, was sold yesterday for $21,000 to the Silent & Betis Co., for Mrs. Ed Botello to C. P. Hull. The price paid being about $1600 per front foot.

TO HOUSE OWNERS

An exhibition of No. 100 S. Broadway, is a window lock called the Rollins, which is fast taking the place of the old-style catches now in use. Hundreds being put on daily in old and new houses everywhere.

D. R. CAMERON.

The total number of new members secured since the last canvass began is 300. In addition to those reported a week ago the following have proposed new members: George Gardner, in total of 10; F. W. King, 7; A. E. King, 5; F. Griffith, 3; H. Jeune, 3; M. S. Sevance, 2. The following have secured one each: George C. Gaskill, R. B. Young, Roy Jones, B. F. Gardner, William Wincup.

ELECTRIC OIL HEATERS.

There are no stoves on the market that approach these in beauty. They are the strongest heating, the most perfect working stoves of their class ever produced, giving the best and purest combustion it is possible to have. The heat is diffused evenly within the burner, creates a mild and healthful atmosphere in the room. One wick will burn for 10 hours. They are graceful and symmetrical and are real stoves. See them at the W. C. Furley Stove Co., Nos. 159 to 165 North Spring street.

Curse Your Dandruff.

It looks bad and leads to a diseased scalp. Smith's Dandruff Lotion is the only guaranteed remedy. Get it at H. M. Sale & Sons, 120 Spring street.

MOTHERS! Be sure and use "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while teething. The best of all.

Overcoats.

We can fit men of every shape, and pocket-books of every size, from our grand stock of Overcoats. Stylish, handsome, dressy, up-to-date overcoats in all fashionable materials, with a make and trim to them which leave absolutely nothing to be desired. When it comes to price, they are unmatchable.

Our $7.50 LineIs a Dandy.

It consists of Kerseys, Cassimeres, Cheviots, in tan, brown and dark gray, actual worth $10.

Our $10 LineIs a Corker.

Here we will show you extra substantial values in twilled Cassimeres, Black Cheviots and Black Blue Kerseys, cut 46 inches long. Your money goes further here than in any similar stock on this Coast.

Our $12.50 Line

Of gray Clay Worsts and dark colored Kersey Overcoats, cut full long is unquestionably the most superior article of its kind we have ever offered. Ask to see them.

Our $15.00 Line,These Stand Alone.

Upon inspection you will find an assortment of Blue and Oxford Meltons, Black and Blue Cheviot Cape Coats, Black, Blue and Dark Gray Clay Worsts that will open your eyes. They are most stylishly tailored, and we claim that there are no more serviceable ready-to-wear overcoats made. Price has been trimmed on these to the bottom notch.

Men's Paddock and Poole Overcoats

At $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.

Here is where we will show you, unquestionably the nobbiest collection of Men's Top Coats ever displayed in this city. Scores of new and stylish fabrics, among them Black Basket Cheviots, Black, Blue, Plum and Oxford Kerseys and Beavers. Custom work alone, and that of a high order, matches these most perfect garments. Do not think of investing until you have glanced, and that most thoroughly, at our Overcoat offerings.

Our Boys' Overcoat

Offerings are strictly on a par with our Men's Department in that line. Call and see those beautiful little Cape Overcoats made with Kilt Skirts, out of most nobby patterned Cheviots. We are showing a large line in prices from $8.50 down to $2.50.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Adjourned Meeting of the City Council.

The Fire Commission Passes Lightly Over the Matter of Badges.

Acceptance of Improvements on Figueroa Street South of Adams—At the Courthouse—The Craig Trial.

At the City Hall yesterday the Council met in adjourned session, but did not transact any business of great importance. The Fire Commission passed upon routine business. Work on Figueroa street, south of Adams street, was accepted by the Street Superintendent.

At the Courthouse interest centered in the arguments of counsel in the Craig murder trial, and Judge Smith's courtroom was crowded during the entire day. Judge York also decided the Foster divorce case.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CITY COUNCIL.

N STREET-SWEEPING CONTRACTOR SCORED—OTHER BUSINESS.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held yesterday morning, all the members except Mr. Stroh being recorded as present.

Councilman Innes moved that D. F. Donegan be granted thirty days further time to complete his contract to improve Broadway. Adopted.

Councilman Nickell moved that the Street Superintendent be directed to repair the wooden crosswalks at the following mentioned street intersections: Downey avenue and Hellman street, Downey avenue and Truman street, Downey avenue and Workman street, Wells street and Pasadena street. Referred to the Board of Public Works.

Councilman Munson moved that a fire alarm box be placed at West First street and Burlington avenue. Referred to the Fire Commission.

Councilman Innes moved that crosswalks be placed across Orange street at Union avenue and across Ingramham street at Union avenue. Referred to the Board of Public Works.

Councilman Pessell moved that the Street Superintendent be instructed to notify the Southern Pacific Railway Company to remove its tracks crossing Tennessee street, between Rock and Rock avenues.

Councilman Rhoads moved that the electric railway company be directed to place its portion of Grand avenue and also of Broadway between Seventh and Tenth streets, and also of Tenth street, flush with the rails. Adopted.

President Teeter moved that A. J. de Bono be given permission to connect with the sewer on Twenty-seventh street, and that the Street Superintendent be instructed to grant the necessary permit. Adopted.

Councilman Smith spoke of the work done by the contractor for street-sweeping, and Councilman Munson said it was being done better than it was before, complainant about it was made in open Council a short time ago. On motion it was ordered that the contractor for the sweeping be notified that he must do the work according to specifications or the contract will be annulled.

On motion of Councilman Innes, the City Attorney was directed to present an ordinance abandoning the proceedings for changing the grade of Hill (formerly Castelar) street, from the north line of the High school grounds to Bellwether avenue.

The City Engineer presented the following:

"Ordinance of intention to change and establish the grade of Hill street, between Rock street and Bellwether avenue, and fixing the limits of the district for the same." Adopted.

"Ordinance of intention to construct sewers in the Alameda street sewer district, No. 2, and repealing the existing ordinance. (This new ordinance is made necessary by the change of the name of Lazard street to Ducommun street, the change having been made previous to the publication of the last ordinance.) Adopted.

A petition from Forrester Bros., asked that the grade be established in the alley running from Orange street to Seventh street, and lying between the Fairmount tract and the West Lake Park tract; and further, that the petitioners be permitted to grade the alley by private contract between Ingramham and Seventh streets. The petition was granted as asked for.

THE FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

THE MATTER OF BADGES PASSED OVER LIGHTLY.

Commissioner Kuhrt was the only absentee at yesterday's meeting of the Fire Commission.

The Chief reported having received twelve new fire alarm boxes, which had been tested and found to work satisfactorily; also that all fire hydrants, to the number of 387, had been tested, repaired and painted. There are, the report stated, seven hydrants belonging to private parties.

A petition from Fred Hoppe, asking permission to remove his boiler and engine from No. 267 South Los Angeles street to his new place of business, at No. 468 Wolfskill avenue, was referred to the Chief, who voted to act.

A protest of Mrs. A. B. Pohlhaus and others protesting against the erection of a box factory on Wall street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was referred from the Council, was referred to the Chief.

The demands and requisitions were approved as presented.

Commissioner Brodrick moved that the City be directed to make a list of the street-car companies with a list of the number of badges worn by actuary members of the department. Adopted.

Adjourned.

Figueroa Street.

IMPROVEMENT SOUTH OF ADAMS—APPARENTLY A GOOD JOB.

The Street Superintendent accepted yesterday the work just completed by Grant Bros. on Figueroa street, between the north line of Adams street and the southerly charter boundary.

The work in the main consists of extra high curbs, asphalt gutters ten feet in width and a gravel surface between the gutters. The gravel work was rolled with a seventeen-ton roller, eight feet wide and presented a fine and solid appearance. The cement sidewalk has a face twenty-four inches in height, so as to care of the large quantity of storm water which it is expected will find its way down that thoroughfare. Under the asphalt there is a depth of six inches of concrete and a ridge of the concrete nearer the center of the street is a redwood plank two inches thick and twice inches wide which was dipped in hot asphalt. This plank rests on its edge which sets on pieces of redwood four inches square and thirty-six inches long. These pieces are buried standing on their ends and are six feet apart.

Just within the plank the edge of the asphalt is finished with what are known as "headers and stretchers" of granite block resting on a cushion of sand two inches in depth and that supported on the concrete bed. The necessary grading for the laying of sidewalks has been done. The work is now completed. At each of the street intersections the asphalt has been extended in an upward curve for a distance of six feet outside the curb line, thus preventing storm water from washing away a gully. Granite blocks have been placed instead of asphalt about each of the sprinkling hydrants so that the action of the water will not injure the gutter.

The contract price of the work was as follows. Grading, 1½ cents per square foot; curbing, 49 cents per linear foot; graveling, 24 cents per square foot; gutters, 27 cents per square foot. Thomas Welsh was inspector for the grading, graveling and concrete work, and D. H. Marin was inspector for the laying of the asphalt guttering.

MICHIGAN AVENUE IMPROVEMENT.

The map for use in issuing the warrant to the contractor for the grading, graveling and curbing of Michigan avenue between Pennsylvania avenue and Saratoga street is being prepared in the City Engineer's office, and will be ready to turnover to the Street Superintendent in a few days. The contractor has nearly finished the work, which is one and one-fourth miles in length.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The piping of main No. 8, R. from Jefferson street southward to the city boundary with a 22-inch cement pipe has been completed. The work was done by Frick Bros.

Martin Dunn, engineer of Engine Company No. 5 of the fire department, has devised a new style of collar for use on the harness or single horse. The collar is of leather end, which clamped together fits so neatly that there is no danger of catching the harness or the horse's breast in the point of union.

NEW DYES FOR COTTON.

BEAUTIFUL AND BRILLIANT COLORS THAT DO NOT FADE

Scientific Discoveries that Lighten Labor. A Weaver's Experience in Dyeing—Carpets Where the Color Stays as Bright as When New.

Within the last few years science has been at work in the matter of dyeing, and the results are the fast diamond dyes for cotton—turkey-red, pink, purple, orange, olive green, etc. These dyes make colors so fast that even washing in strong soaps will not start them. If a woman is sure to get the fast diamond dyes for cotton when she wants to dye cotton, she will be able to dye absolutely fast, non-fading colors that will stay until the goods are worn out.

A practical dyer, writing in the Weavers' Herald says: "I used to dye with roots and barks, but after all my work (and it was a tedious job) I was not satisfied, for the colors were hazy and often faded. Then I commenced to use diamond dyes, and the process is so simple and easy that the work is a pleasure. I have used carpets made of rags dyed with diamond dyes three years, and the colors are as bright as when new."

Many of the diamond dye fast colors are superior to other dyes because they are used by dyers everywhere, even in the big mills and the large dye houses. Imitators of these reliable dyes may claim that their cotton dyes are "just as good," but practical tests prove the diamond is the only kind that makes colors which soap will not wash out nor sunlight fade.

The diamond dyes come in nearly fifty different colors, for silk, wool and cotton, and will dye anything, from a pair of stockings to a dress or cloak.

TREACHEROUS CURRENTS.

LOSS OF THE STEAMER CROWN OF ENGLAND.

The Court of Inquiry Exonerates the Captain and Crew from All Blame—A Coast Seaman's Deposition.

The only testimony introduced before the court of inquiry sitting at Santa Monica on Wednesday to conclude its investigations into the loss of the steamer Crown of England early on the morning of November 7, was the deposition of E. G. Parsons, second officer of the passenger steamer Corona, which piles between San Francisco and San Diego. In substance it was this:

"Defendant has been an officer on the Corona for the past four years, running between the ports named. On the boat's voyage to San Diego, undertaken November 2, it encountered a strong current, tending northward, which was estimated by Parsons to be from fifteen to twenty-four knots per hour, and from Port Harford to Santa Barbara it retarded the boat from the usual running time of less than nine hours to more than nine and a half. It was noticed as particularly strong off Santa Barbara Islands. While at San Diego defendant was on board the Corona to take the captain of the vessel, but did not find him on board. The Corona left San Diego November 5 and ran in a current all the way to San Francisco. It was so strong a current that from Port Harford to the Cliff House, San Francisco, it ran the boat ahead of her logs twelve to fifteen miles an hour.

"This closed the testimony, and the court promptly made findings exonerating Captain Hamilton and his crew from all blame in the loss of the ship. Shores of its following:

"The facts of the vessel's size, build, officers, crew, and load are recited, including the facts found from the published evidence with regard to the fog, log reckoning and change of course, recites the erratic and unaccounted-for currents, and, then, coming to the gist of the matter, the court says: 'The master appears to have navigated the vessel in a satisfactory manner, and in the opinion of this court no blame should attach to him for the loss of the vessel, that officers and crew conducted themselves properly and maintained good discipline at all times.'

The findings conclude with a desire on the part of the court that the attention of the public be called to the fact that the existence of strong, irregular and unaccountable currents along this coast, and particularly in the vicinity of the Channel Islands.

With the completion of the findings the court adjourned, and Capt. Hamilton received congratulations upon his vindication from any presumption of blame in the matter.

PETTY OFFENDERS.

The fan tan players, Cashier Quan Suy, dealer Gin Yot and player Ah Loy (the of the showhouse) pleaded not guilty before Justice Austin yesterday and were bound over, with bail at $200 each, for trial December 1, at 11 a.m.

C. J. Naser, charged with embezzlement, was dismissed yesterday upon paying $40.50, from which he was set free.

In the Probate Court yesterday Charles F. Hanlon, Esq., of counsel for the contestants in the Pratt will contest, concluded his argument before the jury, occupied the attention of the jury for three days, and gave way to Alex Campbell, Esq., of counsel for the proponents, who will resume his address this morning.

NEW SUITS.

Among the documents filed with the County Clerk yesterday were the preliminary papers in the following new cases:

D. F. Donegan vs. Frances Scott et al., action on street assessment.

Joseph Burke vs. J. P. Moran et al., action to recover $1500 and interest alleged to be due for lumber.

Joseph Burke vs. Catherine O'Connell et al., action to foreclose a mortgage for $4000 on six lots in the Moran tract.

ROUTINE COUNTY BUSINESS AT-TENDED TO BY THE BOARD.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors it was resolved to visit the road through the Cahuenga Pass in a body on November 27, and to make a tour of inspection of the Seniors bridge which will have just been completed on November 24.

The matter of the petition of William Banning for a franchise for a wharf at San Pedro was set for hearing on December 5 next.

The bid of the State Loan and Trust Company for the $2000 worth of bonds of the Garvey school district at par and $140 premium was accepted.

The petition for the appointment of Julius Vogt as director at large for the Big Rock Creek Irrigation district vacated yesterday, the officers elected: President, William Chambers; vice-president, W. D. Ball; secretary, F. J. Anderson. The next meeting will be held Monday, December 2, at which time the subject for papers and discussions will be "The Salmon Power of Los Angeles."

THE FIFTY-FOURTH CONGRESS:

ALK WITH A CALIFORNIA REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. Bowers Gives Breezily His Views on "Cross-roads Politicians" and Other Congressional Characters.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 20.—(Special Correspondence.) In order to get an intelligent view of the probable situation in the May-fourth Congress, from a California standpoint, the Times correspondent interviewed Congressman Bowers on the subject. Mr. Bowers knows Mr. Reed intimately, and is well acquainted with the leaders in the House. In answer to a question, Mr. Bowers said:

"Yes, I see the newspapers have fixed up the committees for their Fifty-fourth Congress to their satisfaction, leaving Mr. Reed but little to do in the matter. The Washington Post, with airy assurance, is delightful to see, dismisses of all the important chairmanships. It does not reflect, but says, as one speaking by authority, that such and such members will be chairmen of such and such committees. In the Post's list of chairmen, all the part of the Western States west of the Missouri River is utterly ignored."

Mr. Head has a will and will appoint his committees to suit himself. Of course, it is natural to suppose that he would appoint Mr. Burrows or Mr. Payne of New York, and the other of the Ways and Means for either of these two men, or Mr. Dingley of Maine, could be conveniently spared from the committee.

The trouble now with the country is that the Democratic majority of this committee in the present Congress consists of cross-roads politicians, who foolishly interfere in matters that they do not understand.

Mr. Bowers' views and the practical knowledge of three vast business interests of the country into confusion, introducing a condition of uncertainty that has resulted in widespread disaster and disease. It is reasonable to suppose that Mr. Reed will appoint persons upon this committee, men who know something about the business interests of the country. Mr. Burrows may go to the Senate. But the Republican minority of this Ways and Means Committee consists of strong, competent, experienced men.

"I would be glad to see Cannon or Henderson at the head of the Appropriations Committee. Both have had long service, and are well fitted for the position. What Mr. Walker of Massachusetts doesn't know about banking, currency and finance isn't worth knowing. That is the way Walker looks at it, and the plain characteristic of Mr. Walker is his absolute faith in himself—he has no doubts, no misgivings. He may, perhaps, be chairman of the Committee on Banking. Mr. Pitt of Illinois, the intimate friend of Lincoln and Blaine—an authority on international law, one of the genial and respected members of the House, and is, perhaps, better posted on the foreign relations of this government than any other man in Congress, and, all things being equal, should be appointed to this committee on foreign affairs.

"What else more? There is nothing much. I am now the first named as ranking member of the Republican minority of the Committee on Military Affairs, and also of the Committee on patents. The duties of chairman of either of these committees does not call for anything more than ordinary ability. The man of San Francisco is a favorite of Mr. Reed's. He is head of the Republican minority of the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads, and, also, on the Committee on Claims. I believe he will be appointed chairman of the Postoffice Committee, as he is better posted on the law and better fitted for the place than any member of the committee. If it was going to guess the membership of the Committee on Rules, it would be Burrows, Payne, Crisp and either Richardson of Tennessee or Balfy of Texas."

Missionary Meetings.

Mrs. D. M. Welch of Los Angeles spoke in Redlands at the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning in the interests of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. The house was crowded to the doors. Mrs. Welch gave a general outline of the work of the society, giving many thrilling and touching incidents. The audience responded heartily to the speaker and more than twenty members were added to the already large and enthusiastic society, and a juvenile band was organized with thirty-eight members.

On Friday night Mrs. Welch spoke at the First Methodist Episcopal Church in San Bernardino to a crowded house. Here also the society added largely to its numbers through the influence of this eloquent speaker.

On Friday night Mrs. Welch gave her paper, "An American Home in Korea" in the same church in San Bernardino, for the benefit of this society.

Associated Charities.

The Associated Charities are under obligations to J. J. O'Brien & Co. for a generous donation of canton flannel and unbleached muslin, also to the Boston Store and J. T. Sheward for a like donation of muslin. These donations are timely as it is rarely that any one gives underclothing until it is past service, or is worn so thin that there is no warmth left. Now is a good time for some of the church societies to come to the front and offer to make up into garments for the sick and needy poor. The Charities have a large list on their hands. The cold weather makes this an urgent matter.

Jonathans' Social.

Last Saturday evening the members of the Jonathan Club held another of their weekly musical socials, which was, as usual, a great success. They were exceptionally honored by a visit from the veteran pianist, the Chevalier de Konki. Among others who assisted in making the occasion the most notable in the history of the club were: Messrs. Winfield Blake, Dan Kelly, Theo Kremer, G. Leader, Harry Mabin, P. J. Fenimore and Foley Parker.

"Well,"

said the bright woman who had asked for Pearline, to the grocer who wanted to sell her some imitation of it, "whether you do sell more of these other things or not, there must be something in Pearline which makes the flies avoid it. I notice that all the Pearline packages are clean and fresh. All the others are fly-specked!"

This is a true story. Everything is true that we print about Pearline. The thing in Pearline that keeps flies off is its popularity. It doesn't stay on the shelves long enough to become soiled. When women want washing made easy, without any risk of harm, they must have Pearline.

Send it Back

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Reasons for Hazard's Election.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Thought closely watching the trend of public affairs, I am not in politics and never was. I presume that I belong to that army of free-thinkers who helped to know under the free-trade advocates quite recently, and who taught Mr. Burns and his clan a lesson to their undoing, and to Mr. Budd's gain and delight. If I mistake not, these same free-thinking voters, who are inclined to ignore politics in local affairs, will teach the old party leaders some lessons in the coming election. The old party leaders are anxious about what the Mayor of this progressive city thinks of the tariff or silver issue; he is entitled to his personal views, and no matter how radical they may be, as regards national issues, they probably would not exert an injurious influence upon his good judgment in these measures affecting the good or evil of the city.

Thanks to the good sense of the American people, which has always come to their rescue in times of dire need, we are coming out from that condition of lethargy and inactivity which made us a nation of cowards and unable to fill positions of trust to the people's satisfaction and with credit to himself.

If either of the old political parties want to honor and experiment with some favoritism, let them do so at their own expense, or let them seek for him some more humble office. Mr. Hazard has been tried and found worthy of trust; until his abilities to govern have been tested and proven. I rave not the honor of the personal acquaintance of either Messrs. Ryan, Rader or Hazard and cannot therefore be accused of being either biased or partial. Let me try to look at the case from a common-sense viewpoint, and all things, considered, as a purely business matter. It seems that it would not take any man long to decide as between the three. Take it for granted that they are all equal in natural ability, and assume that you were employing a man to manage a business while the duties and responsibilities were as varied and great as are those of this city; all things else being equal, would you employ the one who had served you well, for a longer period of time, and the other two, who would be novices, and who would have to learn everything, and who could not possibly render you as efficient a service?

The argument that Mr. Hazard has been honored with the position of Mayor for two terms is a strong one, but it is not an argument against his being given the place again. It is founded on a silly sentimentalism which originated in the brain of some office-seeker who was out and about in the city, and who would wish to be called to the people's satisfaction and with credit to himself.

The fact that Mr. Ryan, a nominated member of the Democratic and Mr. Rader, and cannot be accused of being either biased or partial, has been tried and found worthy of trust to the people's satisfaction and with credit to himself.

THE REVIVALISTS.

MR. YATMAN AT THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Interest in the Meetings Increasing—
Mr. Pratt at the First Baptist Church—An Eloquent Sermon.

Another large audience assembled in the First Methodist Episcopal Church last night to hear Evangelist Yatman.

Mr. Jeffries led the song service, after which Dr. Campbell read the first psalm and commented on it some. Miss Moffatt sang "Palms of Victory," the audience joining heartily in the chorus. Mr. Yatman then led in a prayer for all churches and all people. The thirty-seventh hymn was sung, after which Mr. Yatman proceeded with his sermon on "Jesus Saves," taking as his text, Isaiah xxxi. 10. Said Mr. Yatman:

"I had the unpleasant task last night of trying to prove that there wasn't a Christian in the house. I failed. Tonight I have chosen a pleasanter theme, trying to prove that all here are Christian. Some people are like the young lady, who, when asked if she had religion, said, 'I have spells of it.' Well, we do have spells of it here. There are a good many people who are afraid to give themselves to God for fear they will fail. The text is to put courage into that class of persons. I will name the classes as I named them last night; and you can place them in order below. The people who know they are Christians; then they who think they are Christians and are not, and those who know they are not. I want you to take your position as sinners before God, for all have come short of the glory of God."

"You are afraid you won't be saved; you don't feel bold to admit it. They said I would not hold out two weeks, but here I am. I learned a secret to hold on—God's grace is sufficient for all that want to hold on to his promises. If you had looked in my class for the men that would be preachers out of the church, you would find one and a half. I bring you the message to-night that our God is a God of hopefulness, and he will help you. You don't try to be a Christian; there isn't any try about it. It takes an unconditional surrender to Almighty God. You see man and wife down there. There was a time when they met and he asked her, 'If she would be his wife—he didn't say, 'I'll try'—she said 'I will.' Jesus is the great bridesroom when He comes and asks you if you will be His bride, give yourself to Him and He will take you and help you to be faithful to Him. Satan will help those who cannot help themselves."

Renew your covenant. What do I mean by a renewal of covenant? Men get out of harmony with the divine will. I have a boy who gets out of harmony with the divine will, and when he gets straightened out, he doesn't love him less, for he is my boy. So renew your covenant with God; get right, and He will love you and you will love Him. I got cold once. I was going to tell you how it came, but I guess I won't—yes, I will. I liked to go to the theater. I could not get into the theater, so I got out. I got cold—but in my prodigality I was happier than when I was half in the church and half in the world. I looked in the glass and said: Charles H. Yatman, you will straighten out; be one thing or the other; you shall not be a hypocrite. I made the test; we chose tonight to renew our covenant. At 12 o'clock, and I would not go back of that day for the whole State of California. Jesus is a jealous God, and when He asks for our service He wants it undivided, and He will help you to give it. He has helped me for nineteen years, and He will help me for thirty more. Ninety years, in fact, I will be here, and won't need keeping. If you are a blessing to somebody, they will love you, and love is better than gold. God is love."

The subject at the 3 o'clock meeting was "Grace and Truth." The largest attendance yet was at this meeting.

Evangelist Pratt at the First Baptist Church.

The Bible reading at the First Baptist Church, in the afternoon yesterday, was largely attended. Rev. E. R. Bennett of Pomona and Rev. S. K. Dexter of Alhambra were in attendance, besides the local pastor. The service was based on the incident in Saul's life when he disobeyed the command of God in sparing the best of the flocks. The importance of obedience, rather than sacrifice, was emphasized.

The attention at the evening service was quite large. The evening lesson was drawn from the nineteenth chapter of Luke—Christ weeping over Jerusalem. "It is said that, when He came near to the city He wept. The reason we do not weep over the city is because we do not come near enough," said Mr. Pratt.

A large number of requests for prayer were made when the opportunity was given, showing a deepening interest in the part of the service.

The text was taken from Luke xii: 44: "Because thou knewest not the day of thy visitation." The burden of the sermon was the criticism of the ways of the church—the special season of trial. This may be the time of opportunity, and brings with it responsibility to church and Sunday-school—the possibilities at this time of using the means at hand to give tone to the rising generation in this city. When the service was over, an offering was made to Evangelist Yatman.

Said the speaker: "The day of visitation" is not only to the Christians, but to the unconverted. I am greatly concerned about those who are coming to the great critical time of life. Those who have for years waited the appeal of the gospel are here, and have grown indifferent. Impressions are weak. You may think of reaching that point in your life when you have no feeling. When we have no feeling of interest it is a most dangerous indication. Now is the time to cry out for help, that we may have the feeling.

These periods of visitation are scars on the soul if they are not taken advantage of. You must either make use of the time, or you are farther away and harder to be impressed. The closing appeal to more earnest work was most solemn, and responded to by many.

ST. JOHN'S BAZAR.

Another Large Crowd in Attendance.

The Toy Symphony.

A large number of people were present all day at St. John's Bazaar yesterday, and apart from being a social success, a very fair sum of money in round dollars was realized from the different booths and stands. The Altar Guild booth doing an exceptionally good business. Perhaps the chief reason for this success is that the articles placed on sale are marked at reasonable prices, and do not frighten people away.

Last evening's entertainment was in charge of the church choir, and they were prepared with an excellent programme. C. E. Robinson, who has quite a reputation as a vocalist, was most heartily received. Mrs. L. Swaine also won enthusiastic applause, and, indeed, the singing of the different soloists on "Ingomar," where it is necessary to vary the expression constantly in order to represent two persons, was such as to show the artist. Miss Grace Sergeant is always charming and was in very good voice last evening. Now is the full programme:

"Chorus: 'The Sun Shines on the Are Shining' (Weber)—The choir of St. John's Church.

Piano solo, "Our Song's Bright Pinions" (Mendelssohn-Heller)—Miss Ellen Norton.

Song, "The Three Beggars" (Moloy) C. E. Robinson.

Duet, "Trust Her Not" (Balfe)—Mrs. H. L. Hyatt, Miss Grace Sergeant.

Recitation, selection from "Ingomar"—Mrs. E. L. Swaine.

Song, "My Lady's Bower" (Hope Temple)—Willie Parrish.

Solo, Violoncello, "Spanish Dance," (Popper) Frederick Blair, accompanied by Miss Fuller.

Trios, "A Matter of Taste" (Parry)—Elijah, Eben, Horton and Robinson.

Song, "The Kissing Gate" (Cowell)—Miss Grace Sergeant.

"The Toy Symphony," a musical extravaganza, which was very laughable, was also presented under the direction of Mrs. Sherman by the following cast:

Mrs. E. V. Wilson, Miss Wilson, Master Wilson, F. C. Doolittle, Mrs. G. Murphy, Delta S. Proctor, Sadie Proctor, C. H. Smith, Boston; M. M. Barlow and wife, Ogdensburg, N. Y.; G. M. IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

One of the most brilliant affairs that have taken place in Los Angeles for some time, was the crystal wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Sutton at their residence East Twenty-seventh street, Saturday afternoon, November 17. The house throughout was most beautifully and artistically decorated in green and white. The veranda was converted into a miniature greenhouse. The decorations in the reception hall were of white chrysanthemums, ivy and sunflax, while the spacious parlors were draped in white curtains, white ribbon and sunflax. An orchestra of stringed instruments was stationed on the upper floor and the melodious strains of sweet music were constantly floating through the rooms as the guests passed to and fro. Mrs. Sutton was elegantly attired in a dress of black lace over pearl silk and diamond ornaments. Mr. Sutton was in full evening dress. The ladies who assisted in receiving were Mrs. Frank Owens and Mrs. Cushman, both dressed in black lace over black silk, and Miss Brant, sister of Mrs. Sutton, who was daintily attired in a gown of delicate silk with a lace border. Mrs. and Mrs. Sutton were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. Telegrams of congratulation were received during the afternoon from distant friends and relatives. About two hundred guests were present, among whom were noticed: Dr. and Mrs. Bulard, Dr. B. P. McVay, Dr. Hay, Mr. and Mrs. Porte, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welsh, Dr. and Mrs. Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe, Dr. and Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Waterman, Mrs. Weir, Dr. Elizabeth Follansbee, Mr. and Mrs. Potts, Miss Louise Soule, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Hirschfeld, Mrs. Mulford, Dr. and Mrs. Bonelli, Mrs. and Mrs. Karpoff, Mrs. and Mrs. Burleigh, Mrs. Haven, Frank Thompson, Mrs. Ballard, Miss Ballard, H. G. Sutton, Mrs. Shirley, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Anderson, Misses Coates, Engelbrecht, Reardon, Gardner, Tanner, McCreevy, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. Hanna.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The birthday party given last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Grover, No. 32 Buena Vista street, in honor of Miss M. R. Van Allen and F. E. Grover was well arranged and most pleasant.

The parlors were beautifully decorated with roses, sunflax and paper-bouquets. It was discovered during the evening that George Page's birthday occurred on the same date, so he was also escorted to the room, and the guests passed to and fro. The evening passed too quickly for as to fall to view this celestial wanderer.

NEW CITIZENS.

Another Large Party Arrives Over the Santa Fe.

The following excursion party arrived from the East yesterday over the Santa Fe, in charge of Conductor Brown:

Mrs. E. V. Wilson, Miss Wilson, Master Wilson, F. C. Doolittle, Mrs. G. Murphy, Delta S. Proctor, Sadie Proctor, C. H. Smith, Boston; M. M. Barlow and wife, Ogdensburg, N. Y.; G. M. Barlett and wife, Port Huron, White River Junction, Vt.; J. Taylor and wife, Lowell; Mass.; C. G. Adams, White River Junction, Vt.; Mrs. M. J. Flifford, Ogdensburg, N. Y.; Mrs. F. W. May, Albion, Mich.; J. Nakamura, New York; D. Perkins, Chicago; J. F. Southard, Chicago; Mrs. W. H. McLaughlin, Indianapolis; Mrs. L. S. Richards, Newton, Conn.; Mrs. E. Hotchkiss, Bloomingdale; S. Hart, Allie Walker, C. L. Bush, J. Calkins, D. C. Wood, Georgia; Mrs. E. Dutro, Mrs. C. O'Leary, Miss C. O. Day, St. Louis.

THE LATEST COMET.

An Official Statement from Prof. Swift.

LOWE OBSERVATORY (Echo Mountain), Nov. 21.—(To the Editor of The Times) Searching with the big telescope of the Lowe Observatory last evening, in the constellation Aquarius, the water-carrier, I ran across a nebulous object, which aroused suspicion at first glance by its elongation toward the sun. Its position was carefully determined by the circles, but, in the general catalogue of nebulae, no object was indicated in the place where the object was. Motion was detected in two hours' watching, which proved the object's identity beyond any doubt. It is an exceedingly faint object, with a short, faint tail, of course pointed away from the sun. The comet has a slow, eastward motion, and its position last night, at 10 o'clock was 22h. 18m. south, declination 13 deg. 7m.

It is a very unusual thing for a comet to be discovered with such a large instrument as this.

Apparently there are only a few cases on record.

According to the official records

now in the Mexican archives, our message asking for help was delivered in just twenty-four hours after José left us.

Such a record of 200 miles afoot in twenty-four hours is, I believe, unprecedented.

It is a remarkable record.

PASADENA.

CHARTER UNDERGOING DISSECTION BY VOTERS.

Nightly Musical and Literary Entertainments—Trespassers on the Sidewalk—Briefs and Personals.

PASADENA, Nov. 21.—(Special Correspondence.) There is a wide divergence of opinion on the desirability of adopting the city charter that threatens its defeat. Many prominent citizens who have the welfare of the city at heart do not hesitate to express their disapproval of some sections of the instrument, and these criticisms are so various as to prove the utter impossibility of the board of fifteen freeholders preparing any form of charter that would be acceptable to every one. With the publication of the document in full all voters have an opportunity to read it, reflect upon it leisurely, and propose to cast their ballot intelligently when the time comes. If it in its entirety does not meet the approval of a majority of the electors it is defeated in consequence there will be lost a great deal of well-intended effort on the part of the freeholders who contributed the time and energy not to speak of the expense entailed in publication. It is the general opinion that voters should study the charter and be free to express their honest convictions on its various provisions.

A number of taxpayers have openly expressed disappointment in the fact that the charter is to be published in two Pasadena newspapers simultaneously for twenty days. It was discovered today that his publication will cost the taxpayers $300, which is just $400 for each paper, and at least twice as much as required under the law, for Pasadena does not have a population of 10,000 individuals. At a time when some needed expenditures are being deferred on the score of economy such liberality strikes the average taxpayer as something uncalled for. A written communication on this subject was received at the Times office today embodying the views of a number of citizens. In it is mentioned that the city is in a state of financial straits, and several verbal expressions of disapproval came to the reporter's ears.

A DRAMATIC SUCCESS.

The beautiful little theater of the Hotel Green was filled to its full capacity this evening with a fashionable audience, attracted thither to witness the presentation of two farces given under the auspices and for the benefit of All Saints' Church. The hotel orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. Lowmyer, played an overture and a number of selections during the evening in a manner that won the sincere applause of the audience. The printed programme itself, which was studied in the interim of waiting, exhibited some unique ideas. It named the company of amateur dramatics, "The Pasadena Guilded Players," an Aggregation of Minstrels, "The Mimes," and "Mr. Locke." Throughout the little leaflet were sundry pertinent mottoes, to-wit: "Please return the opera glasses before the curtain rises," "Ladies will please remove their hats," "that an umbrella is not on the stage may be had," "No smoking permitted during this play, except by the performers," "Mr. Holmes can tell you where the man is," etc. In a note it was stated that "Carriages will approach the Green House via Raymond avenue from the North." The ambulance will have performed at the entrance. Electric cars are said to be called for after January 1, 1894," meaning 1895, of course.

An amateur performer in a historic effort seldom achieve more notable success than did those who played the stars of "The Girl Friend," "The Box of Cigarettes." In the former Miss Locke, as Margery, undoubtedly carried off the palm, with Miss Greenleaf as Lady Plato vying with her for first honors. Mr. Martin as Sir William Evergreen, Mr. Smith as Captain Augustus Pendulum, Mr. Bruce as Lord Plato were all good in their respective parts. Miss Hubbard was a pretty Lucy, and Mr. Cook well carried off his part as servant. Mr. Gilmore was Cousin Joe was uproariously funny. In the second performance, "That Box of Cigarettes" was a distinct success, while Miss Shoemaker as Mobile Blaire was perfect; Miss Bolt as Mrs. Christopher Columbus Oldboy was charming. Miss Margaret Greble as Phyllis Drayton was vivacious and lovable and the only criticism that can be made of the play is that it was too short. The costumes were brilliant, the setting was excellent. Few more successful amateur entertainments have ever been seen.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

The piano recital given by Miss K. McDowell Wilson at the Spaulding Tuesday evening, was an artistic success, and thoroughly enjoyed by the company of interested spectators.

Miss Wilson, a pupil of Liebman of the Berlin Conservatory, and proved herself to be a skillful interpreter of the most difficult music of the great composers. Her selections, which were classical, were executed with admirable technique and refined expression.

Miss Elizabeth D. Jones, who assisted Miss Wilson, rendered two pleasant soprano solos, one of which was of Miss Wilson's own composition.

George R. Pierce, 36 years old, died suddenly at his residence, No. 149 South Euclid avenue, Tuesday evening, of hemorrhage. He leaves an invalid widow and four children, the oldest of whom is four weeks old. The family recently arrived from the former home of Nashua, N. H., and the household goods came the day before the death occurred. The circumstances of the case are pathetic. Lipincott and Co. will send the remains east for interment.

The regular meeting of the Tuesday Evening Club last evening was the most enjoyable one. The musical and literary programme was rendered by several of the members, among them Messrs. Confin Green and Parker, Misses Longley, Cheever, Sternitt and Johnson, and Mrs. Green. The next regular meeting will be held at E. C. Webster's residence, Mareno avenue, on December 11. The club now has about ninety members.

Officers of the Human Society are going to be provided with tags bearing a printed notice which they will show to the ladies of houses they may find that look as though they were cruelly treated. The owners or drivers of the animals will be warned of the opprobrium brought upon the citizens, to the great amusement of the crowd of bystanders.

The gentlemen of the Y.P.S.C.E. will serve a delightful supper to all who come at the First Congregational Church Friday evening, accompanied by a social with a varied programme of music. It is the intention to make it a most enjoyable occasion for the Christian Endeavors and their friends.

As an indication of the way new buildings are going up in Pasadena it may be stated that Street Superintendent Buchanan, in his capacity of plumb ing inspector, has inspected the piping of twenty-four new houses since the 12th instant.

Miss Isetta May Irish and W. A. Fuller were married Tuesday evening at the residence of the groom's mother, No. 265 North Fair Oaks avenue. Rev. H. Elliott Ward, pastor of the Christian Church, officiated.

E. W. Hyde, 73 years old, died at his residence on Euclid avenue this morning. The remains will be taken to Los Angeles for removal to the funeral, which will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday.

V. H. Theobald, driver of a wagon loaded with bottled goods, drove across a sidewalk today and was fined by the City Recorder $5 for the infraction of the law made and provided.

The third free lecture under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club will be given Monday evening at 8 P.M. at the Universalist Church.

An open meeting of the I.O.T.O. will be held at the Tabernacle Thursday evening, when a literary and musical programme will be given. Admission will be free.

The handsome new tally-ho built in this city for the Painter Hotel made its first public appearance yesterday at the grand opening, with a load of guests of the house.

H. H. Dutton, No. 13 North Fair Oaks, has received a supply of Mrs. Grinnell's book, "How John and I Brought Up the Child."

H. M. Singer and family have returned from their tour in the North and are again at home on West California street.

The paving of South Fair Oaks avenue seems to be progressing slowly, but it will be admirable when completed.

The British Tennis Club was entertained by Miss Ethel Graham of Los Robles this evening.

D. S. Hutchins, wife and child of Port-land, Or., arrived today to visit the brothers Hutchins of this city.

George A. McBain today sold the Balmoral Hotel to James A. Whitaker, who will conduct the house.

VENTURA.

VENTURA, Nov. 19.—(Special Correspondence.) At an early hour this (Monday) morning the Board of Supervisors' room at the courthouse began to fill up with a crowd of eager spectators, with ears primed for spicy evidence. Reporters looking for a sensational item, witnesses subpoenaed in the case, and attorneys loaded with law-books and legal documents, were all there, so that by the time the hour had arrived for the hearing of the case of Superintendent Marks of the County Hospital, charged with harsh, cruel, unkind and inhuman treatment of patients under his charge, the room resembled a police court on a crowded day.

The preliminary developments did not materialize as the new, filed with the县 and necessary absence of F. E. Davis, chairman of the board, the case was on motion of N. Blackstock, Esq., attorney for the citizens, laid over until Thursday, December 6, at 11 o'clock a.m.

Many of the candidates were in complete agreement with the new, filed with the County Recorder a sworn statement of their campaign expenses. The People's Party Central Committee has also filed its statement, and, according to the documents, it is financially "busted." It had $25.10 in the treasury at the beginning of the campaign, and collected $100,000, leaving $12.25, making a total of $333.35. Its itemized statement of expenditures foots up exactly $333.35, and as they secured only one office out of the entire county ticket (the District Attorney), it looks like rather an expensive election.

J. W. Ballard, District Attorney, in the sum of $200, with George E. Freeman, Justice of the Peace in Santa Ana township, in the sum of $200, with D. M. Baker and Chris Miller as sureties.

J. C. Nichols, Sheriff, in the sum of $500, with S. W. Smith, John McFadden, L. H. Halliday, Frank P. Palmer, D. M. Halliday, James McFadden, Robert McFadden, D. M. Dorman and J. W. Shirley as sureties.

E. T. Parker, Constable in Orange township, in the sum of $100, with Charles Dufour and W. S. Derby as sureties.

O. O. Parker, Constable in Anaheim, township, in the sum of $100, with Adolph Fisher and F. Conrad as sureties.

S. M. Craddick, Justice of the Peace in Orange township, in the sum of $200, with A. H. Alward and E. H. Canfield as sureties.

Robert Graham, Commissioner in Santa Ana township, in the sum of $600, with D. F. Pride and A. C. Bowers as sureties.

J. C. Nichols, Sheriff, in the sum of $300, with W. H. R. Weston, John McFadden, L. H. Halliday, Frank P. Palmer, D. M. Halliday, James McFadden, Robert McFadden, D. M. Dorman and J. W. Shirley as sureties.

E. T. Parker, Constable in Orange township, in the sum of $100, with Charles Dufour and W. S. Derby as sureties.

George E. Freeman, Justice of the Peace in Santa Ana township, in the sum of $2000, with R. M. Baker and J. R. Congdon as sureties.

S. M. Craddick, Justice of the Peace in Orange township, in the sum of $2000, with A. H. Alward and E. H. Canfield as sureties.

Robert Graham, Commissioner in Santa Ana township, in the sum of $600, with D. F. Pride and A. C. Bowers as sureties.

R. T. Harris's campaign cost him $120.30 to be the county's next Treasurer.

B. F. Porter, the Democratic candidate for Supervisor in the Third district, spent $40 and then "got out" to use a rating catching team. Mr. Porter collected $12.50 to the County Central Committee, which went to the People's Party club.

BENSON GOES EAST.

The Theatrical Manager Leaves Town Rather Hurriedly.

A. W. Benson, who has been engaged in the theatrical business in this city for a few months past, left suddenly for the East yesterday afternoon. Just why the new manager decided to depart in such short order is one of the mysteries which no one has given a satisfactory explanation for yet, and if rumor is to be relied upon, Mr. Benson will not return to satisfy public curiosity very soon.

As the Santa Fe east-bound train prepared to depart on its trip yesterday, Benson made his appearance at the depot and purchased a ticket. He had hardly settled himself well, however, before a member of the board of health said drink Jesse Moore Whisky.

There is no doubt that the life of the great poet was greatly prolonged by drinking the waters of the Sprudel Spring. In our day we have the Sprudel Spring brought to us in the form of salt, which is obtained by evaporation from the waters of Carlsbad.

The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder form) is in no sense a mere purgative, but is an alterative and eliminative remedy which dissolves tenacious bile, allays irritation, and removes obstruction by aiding nature. It acts soothingly and without pain. Beware of imitations. The genuine article has the signature of "EISNER & MENDELSON, Sole Agents, New York," on every bottle.
